Giant salad tossed at Jubilee

12,000 swarm marina during weekend event

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - The Black Gold Jubilee Committee originally expected to toss a world record salad weighing seven tons.

By the time the salad was tossed, it weighed a bit more than 14,000 pounds. It was closer to 29 tons.

According to Committee Chairman Rupert "Bubba" Mock, Jr., the salad, in its final form Saturday afternoon, tipped the scales at 57,685 pounds. And that's just the vegetables. It doesn't include the weight of the pool or the ice.

If the committee had stuck with a seven ton salad, as planned, it would have only filled up half of the swimming pool that served as the salad bowl. The pool measured four feet deep and 24 feet in diameter.

Two extra truckloads of vegetables were hauled in to fill up the bowl, and quadruple the expected weight of the record breaker.

The vegetables were donated by A. Duda and Sons, Roth Farms, Basore Florida and South Bay Growers. The total value of the vegetables at growers' prices was $9,026.90, according to Mock.

"They really made it for us with the generous contribution and help," said Mock of the growers.

According to Israel Baez, Jr., the salad was composed of several types of lettuce, radishes and other vegetables.

One thousand twenty-five boxes, or 24,600 heads, of Iceberg lettuce went into the salad. Other ingredients included 720 heads of Endive lettuce, 360 heads of Escarole lettuce, 300 heads of Romaine, 300 heads of Leaf lettuce, 960 heads of Napa lettuce, 480 heads of Bibb lettuce, 800 heads of Chinese cabbage, 300 pounds of carrots, 400 pounds of red radishes, 120 pounds of white radishes, 250 pounds of celery, 66 heads of red cabbage and 180 pounds of tomatoes.

Nine tons of ice kept the salad cool and brought the total weight to 15,685 pounds.

The committee was hoping to use the salad to attract the attention of the coast, but it attracted a little more than just the east Florida coast's attention.

"We really got the coverage on it," said Mock. "We achieved a lot more. We had intended originally to attract the coastal area, and we ended up getting coast-to-coast coverage."

The salad had been publicized in newspaper articles and radio broadcasts across the country for the last couple of months.

Several newspapers and television stations attended the creation of the salad Saturday morning and afternoon.

The committee was still discussing the possibility of having a giant salad when a national wire service put out the word on its tentative plans.

Those plans suddenly weren't tentative anymore.

Crops were planted specifically for the salad, and the committee was faced with the problem of where to put the salad.

Several options were discussed, including contracting for the construction of a giant plastic dome. The committee settled on a swimming pool.

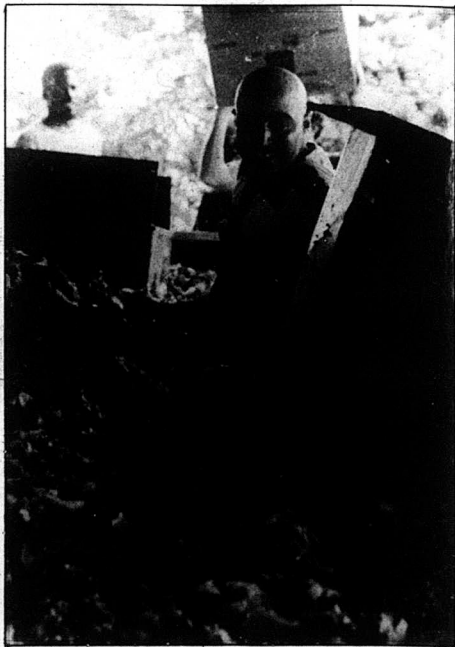

When the event was over, the committee had to dispose of the salad, most of which couldn't be served because of Palm Beach County Health Department regulations. What do you do with over 28 tons of lettuce, radishes, carrots and tomatoes?

Glades Correctional Institution took a great deal of the salad to feed to its hogs.

Other cattle and hog farmers were also given the opportunity to take advantage of the free livestock food.

"This is not my concern," said Baez, who headed the effort to create the salad. "My job was to make it. Let someone else get rid of it."

BELLE GLADE - Moriza Ross, a dual enrolled student at Glades Day School and West Technical Education Center, won first place in the state competition in cosmetology at Tallahassee Friday, April 15.

According to West Tech school advisor Wayne Wilkins, Ross is the first dual enrolled student at the school and is a member of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA).

As a result of her first place showing, Ross will represent the state of Florida and West Technical Institute at the national leadership skills olympics in Louisville, Kentucky June 23 to July 1.

Cable co. to be sold?

By JEFF BROWN

Jones Intercable, Inc., the holder of the local cable television franchise, will apparently be sold to a Georgia-based company, but officials with the local company aren't commenting until the deal is consummated.

Jones Intercable officials have sent letters to the South Bay and Belle Glade city commissions and the Pahokee city council asking their approval for the sale of the company to Sunbelt Cable, Limited out of Atlanta, Georgia.

The request was discussed at the Pahokee City Council meeting last Tuesday, April 12, and a South Bay City Commission workshop session Wednesday, April 13.

Both groups decided to seek more information before taking action on the proposal.

Belle Glade City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang said that Jones Intercable and Sunbelt Cable officials had approached him about the sale, and he requested more information before he would refer it to the commission for action.

He said he hasn't received the requested information yet but has received the request for the city commission's approval of the sale.

According to Strang, Sunbelt and Jones Intercable officials were apparently hoping the Belle Glade city commission act on the request at the regular commission meeting Monday, April 25, but Strang said he won't refer the request to the commission until he receives the information he asked for.

He added that the Sunbelt representatives talked about upgrading the current system if the sale is completed.

Kevin McLaughlin, Jones Intercable's regional manager, said he didn't want to comment on the sale until and unless the transaction is completed.

The Belle Glade franchise agreement has another 10 years to run. According to Strang, the commission must approve any change of owners.

South Bay City Manager Max Harrelle said the franchise agreement requires the South Bay commission's approval of any sale of the system.

Pahokee City Attorney Michael Stauder recommended the city council not take action on the request until after more information is relayed to the city.

Crowd of 12,000 enjoys 1983 Black Gold Jubilee

BELLE GLADE—A crowd of about 12,000 attended the two day weekend of festivities that culminated this year's Black Gold Jubilee.

Belle Glade Police Inspector Mike Miller estimated about 5,000 attended the event Saturday, when the world's largest salad was presented, and that between 7,000 and 7,500 attended Sunday.

"I think everything went real well," said Miller, who headed up the department's efforts to control the crowd and parking on Torry Island during the weekend. "We didn't have any problems whatsoever. We're very pleased with the way everything turned out."

Detective Steve Haller of the Glades substation of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, estimated that a crowd between 3,000 and 3,300 watched the parade through downtown Belle Glade Saturday morning.

Rain threatened to fall Saturday morning, but the clouds cleared off by early afternoon, and the crowd apparently moved to the city marina where the rest of the jubilee's functions were scheduled.

Country bands played all day Saturday and Sunday to entertain the crowds which gathered underneath the tent at the facility.

Catfish and hushpuppies, served with salad, were served by the chamber of commerce Saturday, and barbecued chicken and salad was served Sunday.

Shows, games and contests were put on throughout both days to entertain the crowd.

Greased pole contests, and hay scrambles were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday to give the children a chance to win money and the adults a chance to cheer on their offspring.

Saturday also featured a baby crawling contest, a saltine whistling contest, a pie eating contest and a horseshoes pitching tournament.

The first event of the weekend was a pet show Friday evening at MacDonald Park.

The next morning, while a crew of committee members and helpers started putting together the giant salad that was the jubilee's drawing card, a group of men and women took off from behind Glades Central Community High to run in the Half Marathon and Three Mile Run. Those events concluded just prior to the start of the parade at 10:30 a.m.

Events wound down for the evening with the annual Black Gold Dance at the Elk's Club at 9.

The next day those attending the event could ride in a cement canoe. There was also a clown show, ski show, a raft race, a wild turtle race, a saltine frisbee throw, a rock toss, a big wheel race and fireworks.

Unquestionably The Best Manufactured Home Value

Period
You can't build a home any better for any less than Homes of Merit can. Because you won't build it from the bottom up with ten-inch I-Beam steel, cross braced and stabilized at least every five feet and fit it with outriggers at Every Stress Point. Because you won't make ½" plywood flooring standard or bolt down floor joists ACROSS your chassis instead of lengthwise, or offset your seams for a sounder base, or screw down AND nail your wall studs to clean bottom plates and seal them with airtight foam tape. Or make your own four brace rafters, or cabinetry, or draperies. Or you won't use enough of the right kind of insulation. (Or worse, you'll use so much it compresses to a fraction of the R rating it's valued at BEFORE you put it in.) You may do SOME of those things. But you won't do ALL of them for as small a profit as Homes of Merit will. And that's why Homes of Merit builds the best selling home in Florida. And you don't.

Salad—

According to police estimates, the salad attracted about 12,000 people to the Belle Glade Marina for the two-day weekend.

Inspector Mike Miller said he estimated that about 5,000 people attended Saturday, the day the salad was unveiled. He said between 7,000 and 7,500 attended Sunday.

Miller had expressed concern at Black Gold Committee meetings over crowd control if the event attracted crowds of over 10,000 for each of the two days.

"I think everything went real well," said Miller. "A lot of people were coming and going. There were no big problems and everybody seemed to have a good time. And that was our job. To keep things going smoothly and let everyone have a good time. That's why they were there."

Mock, who leaves the committee after this year, said he was pleased with the success of the jubilee and would like to see it get larger if a facility could be found to handle a larger crowd.

"I wouldn't mind it getting larger so long as we had the controls," said Mock. "This really worked."

"I don't think we will even attempt another salad," added Mock. "It was great once. I would like to see us involve the sugar industry to some extent. They were talking and joking about the world's largest sugar cube. I think it's a great idea."

"AND WHAT NOT"

Hello to my olden days

It may well be, as somebody famous whose name escapes me (and why not, everybody else does), said: "Youth is wasted on the young." Mine surely was, so I don't intend to let my old age pass me by without taking notice of it.

One of the problems with approaching seniority is that it's apt to creep up on you while you're sitting in your rocker waiting for the mood to move you to get up and get cracking. After a couple of hours, you get tired of waiting for a spurt of energy. But it's okay. By then you can't recall what it was you were going to get up to do anyway. It's not the lack of snap that forecasts approaching decrepitude — it's the fact no longer give a hoot what it was you were planning to do two hours ago.

One decision that should be faced in upper middle age is whether you want to develop into a crochety senior citizen or a sweet old thing, because either direction you choose is going to take practice. Your reaction to that plastic greeting: "Have a nice day" needs to be tuned up early. Sweet old things reply, "Thank you, dear." The crochets mutter: "I'll have any damn kind of day I please."

But in the same way that one's youth has flown before it's missed, old age is apt to be upon us between a Monday night and a Tuesday morning, as it were. It's important to recognize the approaching signs. Here's a few I've recorded for posterity and any others who think you're as young as you'll probably feel tomorrow after a good night's sleep.

Your age is showing when you know better than to sit in a soft chair that's too low down and will require the help of two friends pulling and one boosting you from behind to get you back on your feet. Ditto back seats of compact cars. Bath tubs are still safe if you can make it up off your hands and knees.

You're getting closer when you can clearly remember the name of the kid who sat behind you in the fourth grade but not who's Vice President now.

Or when anything you're looking for and can't find must have been stolen, such as the potato masher, a pair of toenail clippers, or the lid off the aspirin bottle.

Not wanting to learn disco dancing isn't an alarming sign, but clucking about the decadence of today's youth grating half-naked in public should clue you that the generation gap is widening rapidly. At about the same speed as an ice flow drifting out to sea, if you take my meaning.

But you really know you and old age have become lifelong companions when you start quoting your grandmother's words as though she were the sage of the ages instead of the narrow-minded, straitlaced curmudgeon you regarded her as heretofore.

Star Wars?

When Rep. Tom Lewis visited the Glades a few weeks ago, he was a bit disappointed when no one from the press asked him about the brouhaha over Pres. Reagan's famous star wars statement.

As you recall, many in the national media were outraged by Reagan's proposal to develop futuristic weapons which would "kill" other weapons, rather than people.

Personally, I thought research and development of this kind proposed by Reagan makes good sense.

If you don't think the Russians are already hard at work on whatever devices they can dream up to do us in think again.

This kind of reaction from the national press corps is something so regular that it has become predictable.

Remember the similar uproar over the decision to build the neutron bomb?

In his book "The Shape of Wars to Come," published by David Baker in 1981, he talks about the ultimate threat, particle beam weapons and new military uses for space.

"Any nation which deployed three dozen of these first generation chemical laser stations would be able to permit or deny, to the rockets of any other nation, the privilege of entry into space," Baker quotes Senator Malcolm Wallop as saying in 1980.

If the system made a mistake in peacetime, the worst it could do would be to shoot down one of the Soviet Union's attempts to launch a weather satellite. We could apologize and pay for it. On the other hand we could be confident that the system could keep clouds of missiles from descending on us," Wallop said.

That is all Reagan was talking about. Sounds sensible to me.

We need H-2 labor program

Florida Rural Legal Services Monday may have told Rep. George Miller of California just what he wanted to hear about the H-2 program: "No compromise is possible. The program must be ended, not expanded."

Attorney George Carr of Florida Rural Legal Services did not explain how South Florida's sugar cane would be harvested if his great social experiment were accepted by the Department of Labor.

For 40 years the sugar industry has tried unsuccessfully to recruit Americans to cut cane.

With some seeking to eliminate the H-2 program, the question must be asked, "Why should Americans suddenly want to cut cane if the H-2 program were abolished?"

Would Carr and the other legal services attorneys go to the cane fields to help out if the $9,000 imported cutters cannot be replaced with domestic cutters?

What happens if the Florida sugar industry is destroyed by this radical proposal? Will it help residents already unemployed? And what about the thousands of working American citizens who depend on the sugar industry for their livelihood?

Everyone agrees that American workers and recent arrivals from Haiti should be afforded the first and best opportunity to cut cane if they so desire.

The sugar industry could save itself a lot of money if willing domestic harvesters were available.

Recruitment of domestic harvesters is costly and required by law. Importation of workers from the Caribbean is a tremendous expense.

The reality is that this tough, punishing work has to be done in a limited time or the crop will be lost.

No business can put up with an unproductive employee indefinitely.

A Department of Labor representative Monday told Miller and his subcommittee that the group of Mississippi workers recruited by the sugar industry received a "very ample" description of the work and that they were told they would be paid on a piece rate basis.

Despite the forewarning, 176 of the 177 workers failed to last the season.

The same Labor Department representative said he had reviewed 82 cases of persons turned

So, what's next?

The 1983 Black Gold Jubilee is over and, apparently, a success.

The committee decided to go for the big play and, judging by the media coverage and the number of people who attended the two day finale, it pulled it off admirably.

The World's Largest Salad was reported on by several newspapers and filmed by several representatives of the entertainment industry.

The day after the salad was built, two large south Florida newspapers featured full-color photographs of it on their front pages.

Television stations filmed the event. Media coverage in the weeks prior to the jubilee helped attract an estimated 11,500 people to the marina last weekend.

Parking problems that are inherent with a crowd that size in an area as small as the marina never materialized, due mostly to the planning of the Belle Glade Police Department under the guidance of Inspector Michael Miller.

We think all involved did their jobs well, from the committee members who planned and set up the events, to the police who controlled the traffic and the growers who donated the vegetables for the salad.

The jubilee grew this year and served the dual purpose of entertaining the hometown folks and attracting outsiders.

We hope those outsiders have a different impression of the Glades than what was probably perceived before their visit.

down for rehiring and found them all to be legal reasons.

Despite this, Rep. Miller said the results of Monday's hearing prove that the H-2 program should not be expanded and that modifications need to be made to ensure more domestic workers are hired.

He added, however, that "I don't expect you to hire every Haitian in Belle Glade and expect them to perform as a master cutter."

We believe that Miller's appearance in Belle Glade Monday was largely a grandstanding play. An essential, and good program, one with adequate safeguards for domestic and foreign cane cutters alike, has been unfairly criticized.

We do not believe the H-2 program will be abolished as some have requested. But we are nevertheless deeply concerned by this possibility.

The results would surely be catastrophic. As George Sorn, assistant general manager of Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association testified Monday, a "properly administered H-2 program is essential to finding a solution to both short term labor shortages and at least reduction and possibly an elimination of the use of illegal aliens in the United States."

Editor:
Concerning Pahokee's $20 million High School, way I figure it about half of that would be spent for labor, and I'm sure over a 2 year period $10 million would help the labor force in Pahokee. And speaking of Prime Farm Land, which is in Sugar Cane at the best; one man can attend 35 acres of Sugar Cane, but with $20 million dollar High School, I've been told by a reliable source that would employ 125 people at an annual budget of just a little over $2 million dollars. And if you're wondering, my address is 9999 S. Lake Ave., Pahokee, FL 33466, and if you don't find me at this address, I'll probably be down at

King's Laundry washing my clothes (over again) that is because they've been littered by soot from the burning sugar cane around the residential part of town, and of course if I finish my clothes you may find me over at the Emergency Room at the Hospital, getting my lungs X-rayed from the dangerous chemicals that's been sprayed on all the Prime Farm Land in the residential part of town; cause I've had a real bad cough lately and I'm suspicious that I might have lung cancer from the chemicals. But you know Mr. Editor: I just had a few serious thoughts that if I was a rich man or woman, worth millions, I would want my name marked in the pages of History of Pahokee, that you only passed this way once, and I would call the School Superintendent and ask him to plaster my name across the front of that school building, which would be there for generations to come. And I would think of all the thousands of boys and girls who would pass through that High School on their journey through life with their diplomas and then after I was gone, generations to come would see my name and I would be remembered as the one who donated this beautiful school down through the years of the pages of History in Pahokee... wouldn't that be GREAT????

Signed,
Jack Ewing

Glades General honors employee

Geraldine Bailey, a Licensed Practical Nurse at Glades General Hospital was recently honored as the hospital's Employee of the Month. Administrator Patrick Lennon presented her with the title at a surprise reception at the hospital. Born in Boca Raton, Fla., she moved to Belle Glade at an early age. Bailey began her career at Glades General in 1967. She is a nurse on the Obstetrical Floor at the hospital on the 12 midnight to 8 shift. She is a graduate of Lake Shore High School. Upon graduation, she attended North Technical School where she received her nursing certificate. She is the mother of two children.

Swiftly's robbery investigated

SOUTH BAY -- Officers from the Glades sub-station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office are seeking two black males in connection with the armed robbery of a local food store.

According to Detective Cliff Simonds, two black males described as medium in height and weight entered Swiftly's food store on U.S. 27 in South Bay at about 7:30 Wednesday night, April 13, and robbed the store of an undetermined amount of cash.

They fled and were followed by a female employee. The robbers apparently shot at the female employee chasing them. According to Simonds, the employee didn't know that the robbers were armed when she pursued them. The two escaped in a late model, light colored station wagon. No one was injured in the incident.

Man reported shot in self defense

BELLE GLADE -- A Belle Glade resident was in the hospital in critical condition earlier this week after suffering a gunshot wound to the right shoulder last weekend. According to Belle Glade Police Detective Normand Hevey, Orphnie Wright, 33, of 200 SW Fifth Street, was shot with a .22 caliber revolver at about 11:45 Sunday night, April 17. Wright apparently was shot in self-defense when he entered the dwelling of Zedekiah Clayton, 26, at 425 SW Avenue D, number 309. Clayton had reported to the police earlier in the day that Wright had threatened him. Wright was taken to Glades General Hospital where it was determined that a .22 caliber slug had become lodged in his chest as a result of the shooting.

Salad days in B

Scenes from the 198

SALAD, SALAD everywhere, but not a bite to eat. The county health department wouldn't allow the loose vegetables in the world's largest salad to be served over the weekend. Only the bagged produce could be eaten. Above, Moises Morales helps build the salad.

THE ICEMAN COMETH to fill the bottom of the world's largest salad bowl with nine tons of ice.

BELLE GLADE MAYOR Thomas L. Altman and his sons watch the Black Gold Jubilee parade from the reviewing stand.

MISS FLORIDA rode in the parade Saturday morning.

SALAD KING -- Israel Baez stands atop the

THE FINISHING TOUCHES to the salad were added by volunteers from West Technical Institute. Israel Baez, above, throws some of the radishes and carrots towards the outer rim of the salad.

A FACE FULL of pie caused some of the younger children to cry, but seven-year old Mike Waters had no problems with that. He placed second.

BLOCK ICE was formed into an X on the bottom of the pool.

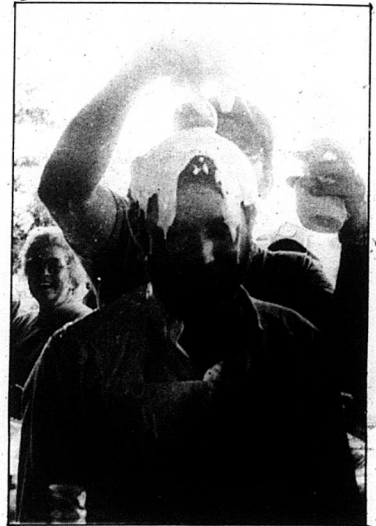

CLOWN FACES were popular at the Jubilee. Lindsay Bennett, three, sat patiently to get her face painted.

IRVIN AND ABBY ZUMF were the parade marshalls.

CRAB WALKING UP THE POLE was unusual, but not effective enough for this youngster to win the money at the top.

CHAMPAGNE wasn't available so salad dressing was poured to celebrate the completion of over Black Gold Jubilee Chair- the world's largest salad.

JIM KELLEY, president of the Southeast Bank at Belle Glade, was a good sport and permitted Ana Tampanna to dress him up as a salad and stuff food in his mouth for the enjoyment of the crowd at Black Gold.

P.G. MESKIN takes a plunge for the Belle Glade Police Benevolent Association.

BARBEQUED CHICKEN was consumed in large quantities Sunday at the Jubilee. David and Gloria Glendinning of Belle Glade are enjoying the food.

Card of thanks

There are times when the word "Thanks" seems inadequate. This is one of those times. Joe and I would like to thank our many friends and people of this community for their hours of help and financial donations toward our son "Derek Scott". It is nice to know that during a time when our economy is so bad and people have a hard time just making it for themselves that they still care for others.

Card of thanks

In appreciation for all the acts of love shown to me and to all my family and friends. For all the flowers and candy and the visits which meant so much to me during my illness. Thank you very much and may God bless you.

CREDIT PROBLEMS?

If your loan application to purchase a new or used car was turned down by the Bank or other lending institution, the Stewarts may have good news for you. For a limited time, we have over $250 million dollars available for auto loans. Credit requirements are more liberal than what you've probably experienced. Terms are longer, and now down payments are necessary. Interest is well below prime lending rates charged by most banks.

Call now and drive home today in a new Pontiac, Toyota, Honda, Fiat, or Peugeot. Call for an appointment or come in. Ask for Mr. Foster, Special Fund Finance Manager.
